

Article 4 Directions Additional Protection for Conservation Areas

What are Article 4 Directions?

You may normally carry out certain minor works without the need for a planning application to the Local Authority (LA). This is called permitted development, and the rights relating to them are defined in the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995.

Under Article 4 of the Order, a LA may make directions to remove such rights if it feels that such development would be harmful to the character of an area. Where an Article 4 direction is in force, you must apply to the LA and get planning permission to undertake the works that it covers.

The need for Article 4 directions in Conservation Areas

There are 33 Conservation Areas in Hart, all being “of special architectural or historic interest, the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance”.

Our objective is to make sure we do not lose traditional building features and boundary treatments that contribute so much to the character and historical interest of our conservation areas.

It also has the advantage of enabling the introduction of similar requirements for porches, boundary treatments, and some exterior painting. It is generally works in public view that need an application for planning permission.

Which Conservation Areas are covered?

These directions, imposed in 1998, cover the Conservation Areas of:

Bramshill, Church Farm (Eversley), Church House Farm (Hartley Wintney), Cricket Hill (Yateley), Crondall, Crookham Village, Darby Green, Dipley, Dogmersfield, Elvetham, Elvetham Farm, Eversley Cross, Eversley Street, Greywell, Hartford Bridge, Hartley Wintney, Hawley Park and Green, Hazeley Bottom, Heckfield, Long Sutton, Mattingley Green, Mattingley West End, North Fleet, North Warnborough, Rotherwick, South Warnborough, Up Green (Eversley), Well, West Green, Yateley Green.

West Street, Odiham. The Broad Oak and Crookham Village sections of the Basingstoke Canal conservation area were also added a couple of years later.

Works covered by the Directions

For all of the above Conservation Areas (except North Fleet) the works covered are as follows:

- (a) The enlargement, improvement or other alteration of the frontage of a dwelling or building within the curtilage of a dwelling, including works affecting a frontage roof slope.
- (b) The erection, construction, alteration or demolition of a porch on the frontage of a dwelling.
- (c) The erection, alteration or removal of a gate, fence, wall or other means of enclosure to the frontage of a dwelling.
- (d) The exterior painting of any part of the frontage of a dwelling or building within the curtilage of a dwelling.
- (e) The erection, alteration or removal of a chimney on a dwelling or on a building within the curtilage of a dwelling.

North Fleet has an Article 4 direction covering just the front boundaries as in (c) above.

In addition Odiham Town Centre has an Article 4 direction dating back to 1970 that includes all the works listed above but is more extensive in that the restrictions apply to the whole of the dwelling, not just their frontages. It also covers agricultural and industrial permitted development provisions.

To clarify some of these terms and requirements:

Frontage refers to the elevations or roof slope of the dwelling or building that face a highway, a footpath, a bridleway, a waterway or a public open space. In respect of side extensions these need permission where they would be forward of the rear wall of the dwelling.

Exterior painting only requires consent where it involves either a painting scheme which is significantly different from the existing or involves areas of the building not previously painted.

The curtilage is the contained area around the dwelling.

What Properties Are Covered?

For all the conservation areas (other than Odiham Town Centre) Article 4 directions cover dwelling houses. Works to listed buildings usually require Listed Building Consent as well.

Article 4 directions generally do not apply to commercial buildings, some of which have their own permitted development rights for certain developments. We can advise on whether a commercial proposal requires permission from the LA

The Effects of the Directions

You now need to apply for planning permission for the works described above. Consent will not normally be given to replace traditional features with modern ones, or to use substitute materials such as aluminium or plastic. Where modern materials have replaced traditional ones in the past, it is expected that the correct original materials and details will be restored when circumstances allow or when further replacement is needed.

Repairs

You do not need planning permission for repairs to non-listed buildings provided these are carried out in a traditional manner to the precise details of the original elements involved and using the same materials. You can also replace worn out minor elements without permission, provided these replacements are exact replicas.

Article 4 directions in the Countryside

There are also 4 areas of open countryside in Hart that have had Article 4 directions in place since 1985.

Dogmersfield Park has restrictions on agricultural and forestry buildings & works and temporary buildings and uses.

Land at Warren Hill Farm (Hulfords Lane) and Land at Springfield Way (both in Hartley Wintney) have restrictions on agricultural and forestry buildings & works and erection of gates, fences and walls and formation of a means of access.

Land south of Heath Lane (Cron dall) and Land at Heath Lane (Cron dall) has restrictions on agricultural and forestry buildings and works, erection of gates, fences and walls, temporary buildings and uses, formation of a means of access, and use as a caravan site.

Future Article 4 Directions

We may from time to time introduce additional directions and may cover the whole of some properties instead of just their prominent frontages. This would be done, following regular review, if we felt the character of certain conservation areas needed further protection.

Planning Fees

There are no fees for any planning application required solely because of an Article 4 direction.

Further Advice

Our Business Support Team will be able to confirm whether your property is in an area covered by Article 4 directions and we advise that you check what directions may apply. We can also advise you on whether permission is needed for alterations or other works but if you require written confirmation then we recommend that you apply for a Certificate of Lawfulness.
